ROCKLIN COMMUTERS NOW ON "TRACK"

The City of Rocklin to unveil historically inspired train station

- WHAT: On Tuesday June 27th, 2006, the City of Rocklin will officially unveil its new train station, located on the current transcontinental mainline for the Union Pacific Railroad. The Rocklin station marks another location of the Capitol Corridor train service.
- WHY: Designed by local architect firm Studio SMS, the 3,000 square foot multimodal train station, inspired by turn-of-the-century craftsman style architecture, serves Rocklin residents with both westbound and eastbound passenger trains. The train station is one of the first steps towards the redevelopment of downtown Rocklin.
- WHO: Rocklin City Council Members will be at the train station to talk with commuters about the station and its significance as a cornerstone in the downtown redevelopment of the city.
- WHEN: June 27, 2006 from 6:30-7:00 a.m. Train scheduled to arrive at 6:58 a.m.
- WHERE: Rocklin Train Station
3700 Rocklin Road at Railroad Avenue, Rocklin, CA 95677
- VISUALS: Morning commuters getting on and off the train, riding the railroad, council members meeting and talking with train riders
- CONTACT: For additional information please contact Jace Duval at 916.448.5802 or 916.947.4663
